Dear Jim:

Just a short note to thank you for the effort that you made to attend the off-site planning conference [redacted] I know that you had to make personal sacrifices to be there on Sunday evening, but I think your presence was a key part to the success of the conference. Your contributions were timely and on the mark.

There were some technical aspects of long-range planning, particularly as they should relate to special Air Force programs, and some other issues that you raised that I would like to discuss with you further and privately in more detail. I will ask my secretary to arrange for us to have lunch together as soon as we can arrange it.

Thanks again for your support.

Very sincerely,

[redacted]

Dear John:

Just a note to thank you once again for the personal sacrifices that you had to make in rearranging your schedule to attend the off-site conference. As usual, your contributions were meaningful and significant in spite of obvious pain and discomfort from your tooth injury.

Also wanted to inform you that we have just received the letter from Secretary Lehman concerning your Navy special program; I do not know why it took over a month to get to the DCI. If you would, therefore, inform Paul Miller that a reply will be forthcoming from the DCI within the next few days. I would also like to suggest again that you include a representative from Ev Hineman's shop on the [] special ad hoc requirements committee and that if you include him in your 16 December committee meeting, I think it will give Evan a degree of confidence that should be helpful to you. As we also discussed last week, I would like to get together soon and complete the arrangements that we have discussed earlier for restructuring the Ad Hoc Committee.

One final item, I mentioned to Chauncy while you were gone, that I would like to visit Suitland some time soon and will attempt to bring the DCI with me. He has expressed an interest in visiting your analytical facilities.

Thanks again for your support at the conference.

Very sincerely,
